

KICKSTARTER

Funding period

Sep 25 2013 - Oct 25 2013 (30 days)

The creators of Wind-Blox have been hard at work for over a year perfecting the design with the help of a local manufacturer, testing prototypes with the help of cyclists, getting advice from entrepreneurs and lawyers, and sharing their excitement with anyone who has ears. The time has come. The product has been tested, revised, re-tested, and finalized, and the planning, patent and trademark are in place. It's time to launch Wind-Blox so that cyclists can hear less wind noise than ever before.

Join us. Buy a pair or two or ten, get the word out, celebrate our beginning as we raise funds to cover marketing and inventory. Your money goes directly to promoting awareness of the effect of wind noise as we get Wind-Blox onto helmet straps of cyclists everywhere.